Money and the "April Settlements."

SUNDAY, March 10, 1872. an commercial circles the week has not been a missactory one and a good dear of disappoint ment has been expressed among the merchants in one department, the grain trade, there is actus depression, while in dry goods the season, if not a active as anticipated, is at best tardy. A fear tha there has been considerable overtrading helps to create an unpleasant feeling in some quarters; but it is as yet ill-defined and may be readily removed by briskness by and by. The winter has been late, at least in our colder experience of it, and doubt-less trade has been checked by the deferment of the spring relaxation. THE MONEY MARKET.

The banks, still sailing very close to the shore of their legal reserve, have not ventured to expand their accommodations to borrowers, although the re-sources during the week were fortified by a gain of over a million and a half in specie and greenbacks, and hence we find not only an active and at times stringent market in the street to the brokers borrowing on call, but stiffer rates for paper, which for the several grades of bankers' and commercial has been done at 7 a 8½ per cent. On call the rates ranged from 7 per cent to that rate plus a commission of 1-32 a 1-16. The banks have curtailed their loans to the extent of a million during the week, which proceeding, in view of their gain in legal reserve, is regarded as a few weeks whatever demand may be made upon them by the country banks in connection with the rural activity in money incident to what are known as the "April settlements." This drain is of very irregular extent and can never be even approximately calculated. It may amount to very little this time and may be of grave extent.

Foreign exchange hardened at the close of the week and the leading drawers advanced their rates, but rather in preparation for the ensuing week than as a result of any special demand on Saturday when, as usual, the market was dull. The following shows the new schedule of rates:-Sterling, sixty days' commercial, 108% a 109%; do., good to prime oankers', 109½ a 109½; do., snort sight, 110½ a1 10½ Paris, sixty days, 5.25 a 5.20; do., short sight, 5.16; a 5.15; Prussian thalers, 72 a 72%; Antwerp, 5.23% a 5.19%; Switzerland, 5.23% a 5.19%; Hamburg, 85% a 36%; Amsterdam, 40% a 40%; Frankfort,

40% a 41%; Bremen, 78% a 79. THE STOCK MARKET. The chief incidents of the stock market were the active and somewhat acrimonious speculation in Pactic Mail, a rise of over five per cent in Eric and sporadic upheaval of quite a number of the ob-scure and miscellaneous fancies of the share list, particularly towards the close of the week. The savai parties in Pacific Mail have encountered each staer not only in the street, but in the court room, and the end is not yet. The "bulls" midway of the week advanced the stock quite aud-denly to the vicinity of 63, but the "bears" over night procured an injunction from a Kings county branch of the Supreme Court, and intended employing it next morning, when, as they hoped, the witndrawal of money from the uses have occasioned a smart fall in the price. As it was the stock was offered down to 60 at an uptown hotel ane same night, in expectation of a "break" next good time and obtained its immediate The stock recovered to 63%, but again went off to 60% on a revival of to 63 /a lew sales, buyer three), on the nontponement of action thereupon, but once more dropped to 61% on sules by the "bull" clique themselves, who, seeing the preparation of the banks for a tight money markes, had taken advantage of these intermediate spells of strength to unload, their ability so do so being assisted by a coincident demand to cover short sales. The clique have doubtless no handoned their general plan and intentions. Ru they have become worried and tires, and in view o the April activity in money would prefer to do as die the honest Dutchman, who, uneasy in his sad die, got off his horse to get on better. The apward movement in Erie has been the direc epuird movement in Eric has seen the afrect result of the legislative propositions and measures for turning out the present ring and giving the stockholders a fair chance to select their successors. The curious part of this rise is its origin with the

"ontsiders," and not with the professional specula-tors, who, indeed, were "short" of Erie a week ago, but, forced to cover by the advance, are now lo ang on at the game between the ring on the one side and the legislative lobby and the "outsiders" on the other. The rest of the active list were only moderately dealt in, and, while strong and higher exhibited less important fluctuations. In th chares ordinarily quiet, Panama rose to 92 on purchases by the Pacific Mail clique, who are desirous of controlling the next election, which taxes place in the first week of April, in the interest of their own company. Canton sold at 94, Mr. Drew being its principal supporter on his own theory that "them 'ere sheers are with 150 if they're wath a cent," a private opinion thus publicly expressed which the community at large are at perfect liberty to coincide with or differ from. This rage for the miscellaneous list embraced the several expresses and the coal stocks. On Saturday Hannioal and St. Joseph advanced to 49 on the advertisement of the company proposing to sell on the 20th inst., to the highest bidders in lots of not less than 100 shares, one million dollars of the five millions of new common stock. The notice is given THE SOUTHERN STATE BONDS.

The Southern list was dull, but firm. The new South Carolinas touched 36 and Virginia consols 48. THE BANK STATEMENT.
As auticipated the banks a week ago were at the bottom of their ebb of resources, for the statement presented this afternoon shows a sudden gain of over $1,000,000 in their surplus reserve, which now stands at $4,118,350. The lighter imports of the week have enabled the banks to make a gain of over $800,000 in specie. An increase of nearly the same amount in legal tenders is not so easily exoff the market for speculative purposes have been returned to the banks. The deposits show little va-riation, but the loans are down nearly a million. The statement compares with its predecessor as

	THE GOLD MARKET.

A fluctuation of only % per cent during the six days attests the steadiness and dulness of the gold market, which are all the more remarkable when we remember the wide variation in the import movement of foreign goods between this week and last—a condition of things suggesting whether the gold premium as the country now stands is not af-fected simply by internal considerations such as a redundancy of the currency, and not by external discredit of the government's good faith. The gold market at the present moment is such as to present a field for some financial philosopher's investiga-tions. The extreme flactuations daily in the price of gold during the week were as follows:-

HEAVY FAILURE IN ILLINOIS.

The Grand Tower Mining and Manufacturing Company in the Hands of Trustees-Liabilities Three and a flaif Millions-

Furnaces at a Discount.

CARBONDALE, Ill., March 8, 1872. In 1863 a party of New York capitalists purchased vainable coal beds at Mount Carbon, six miles west of this place, and at once proceeded to fully develop their mines. A railroad was built from Carbondale, passing through the Mount Carbon coal darbondaic, passing through the Mount Carbon coat fields, to Grand Tower, on the Mississippi River, a distance of twenty-four miles, for the purpose of getting their coal to market. A careful analysis of this coal showed it to be almost pure carbon, free from slate, sulphur and other impurior furnaces, as do other ottuminous coals. This favorable analysis led to the belief that the coal or furnaces, as do other oituminous coais. This favorable analysis led to the belief that the coal could be used for iron and steel manufacturing purposes, without its first being coked, as is the case with other coals. A series of expensive experiments established this important fact, and the company then proceeded to erect two large iron furnaces at Grand Tower. In consequence of alterations which it was found necessary to make the cost of the furnaces was over $300,000, or more than double the original estimate. For a short time the railroad, mines and furnaces paid handsome dividends upon their cost and expenses; but a series of accidents, including the blowing out of one of the furnaces, and the long interruption to navigation on the Mississippi caused by the low water last summer and in last winter, so seriously embarrassed the company that all their obligations could not be mether. William W. Farkin, of New York, held a chattel mortgage for $350,000 upon the personal property of the company, which became due and was not paid at maturity. After considerable negotiating orders were given Mr. Parkin's agent in this place, A. C. Bryden, to foreclose and take possession of the railroad rolling stock, tools and machinery belonging to the Grand Tower Mining, Manufacturing and Transportation Company, under the provisions of the mortgage. This was done on Monday last, when Mr. Bryden selzed the locomotives, passenger and coal cars, engines, tools and equipments of the company. In the meantime the stockholders had taken the matter in hand, and Messrs. Charles N. Talbot and Josiah P. Low, of New York, were appointed trustees for the bondholders, and to them Mr. Parkin subsequently made over the property seized under the mortgage. The matter was so quietly effected that the outsiders knew nothing of the transaction, and the business of the road and mines was suspended less than half a day.

bankruptey. The capital stock of the company was $1,250,000, its bonden debt $2,000,000 and its floating debt less than hair a million, while the lutrings value of its real assets cannot be less than $7,000,000. All its floating debt will be paid as soon as youchers for the same can be presented. A verdict for $200,000 had been obtained against the company in the last term of the United States Court for the District of Southern lilinois; but as the case is not yet decided this judgment is not included in the habilities.
